THE GIRLS ON THE BEAUTY DESK

Antonia Burrell at Urban Retreat

By Philippa Pearne | Wednesday, 19 January 2011

Allow us to introduce you to a brand new 100% natural skincare range by holistic facialist Antonia Burrell. Promising to keep skin trouble-free and youthful, the products are all contained in violet glass to protect the natural ingredients from being damaged by UV light, which we think is pretty clever!

The range has just launched into Urban Retreat at Harrods where Antonia herself is going to be available to do her 'Natural Facelift Facial', using the new products, from now until this Saturday. The treatment, which takes an hour and fifteen minutes, involves 48 unique muscle movements aimed to tone the face, reduce puffiness and smooth wrinkles leaving your skin as soft and as clear as anything. And as a celebration of the launch, instead of the usual £120 it'll only cost you £95.
